Invitation to visit INAHGEN 2010: a must see Farmers Congress in Manila

We take pride in inviting you to come and join the country's largest and most prestigious agribusiness exhibition INAHGEN 2010, THE FARMERS CONGRESS Organized by the Philippine Veterinary Drug Foundation Inc. (PVD AFI) and the Philippine Swine Industry Research and Development Foundation Inc. (PSIR DFI), this will be participated in by livestock and poultry industry leaders from the Philippines and from around the world.

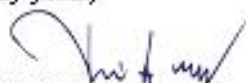

Scheduled to be held on February 3, 4, 5, 2010 in the country's largest exhibition and convention center occupying almost 10,000 square meters of SMX Convention Center, SM Mall of Asia Complex, Pasay City, Philippines. There will be live animal displays and trade shows for latest trend in livestock and poultry products, displays and innovations in latest equipments, information, and services that will focus on animal health, genetics, and nutrition.

There will be plenary sessions, conference and seminars on up-to-date research, latest technologies, commercial findings, veterinary medications, and other interesting topics from top Filipino and foreign resource speakers. Free admission.

This bi-annual event provides excellent business and networking opportunities and will also feature educational programs, farmers meeting, and linkages among major industry players here and abroad.

Thank you very much and we value your continued support.

Truly yours,

DANILO A. SANCHEZ
